The best way to accomplish this would be to make hats, shirts, etcetera for gamers who spend more than a certain amount of money.

I personally think that the vast majority of Roblox games are for children. There is only a few games that are suitable for adults which were developed in recent years, but there are also a large number of games that have been around for years, and it is still very popular. I don't think there is anyone who has played this game since they were a child, so it's not like people will stop playing because they're unhappy with the newer games.

ROBLOX is a company characterized by its community-based culture. This is reflected in its games, which are generally hosted on the website (as opposed to the product), and as a result, are built by users for users. The developers at ROBLOX have stated that they are completely open to third party development—the only restriction on what is considered acceptable and permissible is that all products must be compatible with ROBLOX's Terms of Service. Whether ROBLOX soft products will be accepted into the Steam platform is still unconfirmed.
